Computer Classes Offered at Library Free Class for Adults over 50

Pocatello's Marshall Public Library, 113 South Garfield Avenue, has opened registration for its next cycle of computer classes.

The computer classes are geared toward adults over 50 who have little to no computer experience. The first classes are basic computer instruction, including how to use a mouse and basic word processing skills. Final classes will address using the Internet and creating and using an email account.

The first class will be held Wednesday, August 24, 2011, at 9:00 a.m. Both daytime and evening classes are offered. Classes are free and open to the public, but space is limited so call the library at 232-1263 ext. 21 to register.
